Message from the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

“ Over the coming year, the Company will continue to move forward to achieve our goals and grow in line with the country’s economic and social development. We will continue to upgrade the quality and efficiency of our services according to international standards ”

The outbreak of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) in 2020 has had serious impacts on the world, affecting the economy, society, travel, living, and, of course, the healthcare industry. Foreign patients have not been able to travel to Thailand for medical services as they did in the past. Thailand’s healthcare industry has thus had to change radically to compensate for such impacts. To maintain their business, players in the healthcare industry have had to implement strict cost control measures without lowering service quality.

After assessing and monitoring the situation and the possible impacts when the new disease emerged in China and the first case was found in Thailand in early 2020, Praram 9 Hospital immediately adjusted its strategic plan. A separate area was specifically prepared for examining at-risk individuals in order to separate them from other patients. The Company turned an area in the Inpatient Department (IPD) into a negative pressure room to prepare for a wider spread of the disease. A telemedicine system was put in place to support patients who need to receive medications but were not comfortable or did not find it convenient to travel to the hospital. The Hospital also campaigned as a “COVID SAFE Hospital” and strictly complied with infection prevention and control measures, giving patients and families confidence and encouraging them to return to the hospital when the situation improved.

In July 2020, the Hospital opened Building B, which is more modern, comfortable and convenient, to service a new group of health conscious customers seeking preventive healthcare and wellness services. The building has a larger patient handling capacity than the existing facility. At the same time, the Hospital was drawing up a plan to improve Building A to support patients with difficult and complicated diseases, who are the main customer group, to provide them with a greater variety of services.

Thanks to this strategy and a series of developments, the Hospital has experienced only a limited impact from COVID-19. The 2020 operating performance was satisfactory with total revenue of THB 2,632.9 million, hospital business revenue of THB 2,601.2 million and profit for the year of THB 202.1 million. As of December 31, 2020, the Company had total assets of THB 4,797.0 million, total liabilities of THB 681.8 million and total equity of THB 4,115.2 million.

Over the coming year, the Company will continue to move forward to achieve our goals and grow in line with the country’s economic and social development. We will continue to upgrade the quality and efficiency of our services according to international standards, with the aim of becoming a leading hospital with sustainable growth in the future.

- (2) Contracting organizations

(2.1) Contracting organizations: Situated in the new CBD in Bangkok where many large corporate offices are located and expanding quickly, the Hospital has a dedicated marketing team to coordinate with these organizations and offer medical services. The Hospital also regularly organizes activities to strengthen relationship with these contracting organizations. In 2020, the income from contracting organizations accounted for approximately six percent of the total hospital operations revenue.

(2.2) Contracting insurance companies: The Hospital's Business Development Department is responsible for coordinating with and supporting contracting insurance companies, including life and non-life insurance companies offering health insurance policy, to support the growing health insurance trend. In 2020, the income from contracting insurance companies accounted for approximately 22 percent of the total hospital operations revenue.

Target customers also include both Thai and foreign customers. Foreigners, including those travelling for medical services in Thailand and expats working and living in the country, are high potential group. The Hospital has developed its service quality to support foreign patients, build partnership network in other countries, such as Myanmar, China and Cambodia. New marketing and communication channels, including Alipay and social media have been developed to enable the Hospital to better reach and communicate with customers from those countries, including Chinese who work or travel in Thailand. In 2020, the revenue from foreign customers accounted for approximately 9 percent, a slight decrease from 16 percent in 2019, due to the outbreak of COVID-19. Major groups of foreign customers are from Myanmar, China, Cambodia and Japan.

Marketing and Competition

Market Trend and Competition

Industry Trend

(1) Medical service growth trend in Thailand

Like many other industries affected by COVID-19 pandemic, medical and healthcare service industry is likely to shrink by no less than 10 percent compared to 2019. However, private hospital sector is expected to resume growth in 2021 - 2022 following gradual improvement of purchasing power. Foreign customers are forecasted to be able to travel into Thailand and the number of foreign patients will return to the pre-COVID-19 level in late 2021. Considering this projection, the Hospital's revenue will continue to grow, driven by the following supporting factors.

Increasing older population against total population in Thailand

The development of ageing society will drive demand for complicated medical services and advanced medical technology. The National Economic and Social Development Board (NESDB) forecasted that Thailand will become fully ageing society in 2021 (under which 60-year-old population will account for 20 percent of the total population). The number of older populations will grow to 32 percent in 2040. Approximately 60 percent of the older persons will be having health problems. (Source: NESDB). Thailand Development Research Institute (TDRI), meanwhile, forecasted that by 2032 the total medical expense of the ageing society will grow three times when compared to the normal expense forecast. This reflects that the increasing number of older persons will significantly boost medical expenses. Circular system diseases, diabetes and chronic respiratory system diseases respectively will be the key diseases with the highest impact.

Middle-class population growth

The growing middle-class population means higher purchasing power, which will drive the demand for medical services at private hospitals. In 2020, it was expected that Thailand's middle-class population would expand to 41 percent of the total population compared to 36 percent in 2015. This trend is in line with the situation in other ASEAN countries, resulting in higher growth opportunity for the private hospital sector.

The expansion of foreign patients and new foreign patient group

High potential foreign patients are those from ASEAN countries, especially the Cambodia-Laos-Myanmar-Vietnam (CLMV), China, Russia and African countries where public health services remain insufficient. This has provided an opportunity for Thailand's medical service sector to grow. At the same time, this trend has enabled Thailand to reduce dependence on customers from a particular country. The increasing number of expats, especially those from China, Japan, South Korea, the US and European Union, also added more growth opportunity as this group of customers generally are accompanied by a number of family members.

Government support

The government has provided support to the medical service industry since 2004, aiming to establish Thailand as the medical hub of the region. The policy was drawn in support of the rising health tourism trend. The Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT) also has a plan to make Thailand the "Medical and Wellness Resort of the World by 2024. The government has implemented various projects to support this policy, such as encouraging Thais and government officials living and working in other countries to return home for health and beauty services, strengthening online marketing activities to attract health tourists, introducing Hotelistic concept to encourage foreign visitors to seek medical checkup and detoxification services, or promoting Thailand as the Top of Mind Destination for Medical and Wellness services.

Increasing communicable and emerging diseases

Communicable and emerging disease trend is on the rise, including the emerging disease like corona virus disease 2019 (COVID-19) which began in December 2019, seasonal communicable diseases like dengue, and possible recurrence of infectious diseases, such as Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome or SARS, H5N1 (in 2004) and 2009 flue pandemic (H1N1).

Increasing number of non-communicable disease patients

In 2019, approximately 400,000 Thais died of non-communicable diseases (NCD), including hypertension, diabetes, ischemic heart disease, stroke, bronchitis, asthma and cancer. Rising trend of non-communicable disease in working-age population has been observed due to health risk behaviors directly related to NCDs like excessive consumption of alcohol and sugar, and smoking. This trend has driven continuously increasing demand for medical services and treatment.

(2) Challenges affecting medical service sector in the future

Intense competition from existing and new players

Intense competition in the medical service sectors both by private hospitals and other related businesses is expected. While private hospitals invest more in service improvement and expansion, public hospitals have added private wings, enabling government hospitals to maintain the same cost but provide services and charge for the services equivalent to that offered by private hospitals. At the same time, other businesses, such as property developers, have entered into the medical care industry, considering the sector's potential to generate sustainable income and to better meet health-conscious consumers' demand. In addition, competition from foreign competitors is increasing. Foreign investors are interested in opening specialized medical centers in Thailand, such as fertility center. Meanwhile medical institutes in other Asian countries, such as Singapore, which position themselves as medical hub and have similar target customers as Thailand are eyeing expansion service in Thailand. Considering this trend, it is important for Thai healthcare service providers to move fast otherwise they will lose market share to these new entrants in the future.

Shortage of doctors and medical staff

The changing age structure of population will drive healthcare service demand and consequently demand for doctors and medical staff in all fields. However, with currently limited numbers of doctors and medical staff, it is difficult to increase the number of hospitals. According to World Health Organization statistics in 2017, the number of doctors in Thailand is only 0.5 per 1,000 population while the number of nurses is 2.4 per 1,000 population, which are very low compared to that in developed countries where the number of doctors is 2 per 1,000 population. Although Thailand produces more than 3,000 physicians per year, it takes some time to increase the ratio of doctor to population. This will also affect hospital operation cost in the future.

- High-level executives and management
- Entire organization

2. IT system architecture and infrastructure

- Healthcare Information System (HIS) development
- Migration of computer backup system to Cloud

storage

3. Operation and management improvement

- Development of electronic collaboration work system
- Development of inpatient care team communication system
- Development of decision support system

4. Service

- Development of inpatient service application
- Development of mobile application for patients
- Development of control system

Research and Development

The Hospital has laid out IT capability development plan as well as employee development to allow its employees to embrace the right perception and to develop the required qualifications. This development will support the Hospital's goal to become a digital hospital according to the digital transformation policy. The three objectives of this policy are:

- 1) To increase efficiency in medical treatment and patient safety
- 2) To enhance customers' experience in terms of convenience and service speed, which will create positive customer impression and spread word of mouth
- 3) To increase operational efficiency, reduce operational redundancy and minimize resources

The Company is conducting research and development in three areas as follows:

IT system architecture and infrastructure

Since 2015, the Company has been improving its IT system to support efficient analysis of large and more complexed databases, for example:

Healthcare Information System (HIS) development, such as the development of mobile HIS that enables physicians to have convenient and remote access to patient history and examination results, to prescribe medicine and to give advice on medical treatment. Mobile HIS development has already been completed and actually implemented.

Migrating computer backup system to Cloud DR site to mitigate business risks and ensure business continuity during emergency. The project has been completed.

Operational process and management

The Company plans to deploy IT system to support operational process and management with an aim to reduce time, cost, personnel burden and operation errors, for example:

E-document and E-workflow development system which will be used in document preparation, such as in procurement, maintenance and incident reporting. The paperless operation will reduce costs from paper waste and help protect the environment according to the Company's social and environment responsibility policy. The Company has initially tested the first operational process system and will test other systems according to the implementation plan.

Inpatient care team communication system development is aimed at increasing communication efficiency between inpatient care team and other departments, such as Nursing Department, Pharmaceutical Department, Nutrition Department, Physical Therapy Department, Finance Department and Insurance Department. Communication channel is moved to electronic or online channel, increasing communication speed and information transfer between departments. As a result, patient discharge waiting time is significantly reduced while patient room turnover speed is improved and inpatient handling capacity is increased. The project has already been completed.

Business intelligence system development is implemented to increase the Hospital's ability to use information for analysis and support medical decision. This will enhance efficiency and effectiveness in many areas, including patient treatment history analysis, management and business planning to enable the Hospital to adapt quickly to the changing situation, such as information analysis to support development of new products and marketing process or services to create differentiation and customer impression. The Hospital has already started the development of business intelligence system since 2015.

Service

The Company has deployed advanced technology in designing and developing services with an objective of expanding scope and types of medical services and enhancing customer satisfaction. This will increase opportunity for customers to repeat their visits and services as well as widely spread the words about the service. Major developments are as follows:

Praram 9 Patient Mobile Application: The application will build and enhance customer experiences in the pre, during and post visit service period, including appointment making, patient registration, medication reminder and distribution of the Company's news and information.

Command Center development: This allows the Hospital to closely monitor patients' critical symptoms and conditions, such as blood sugar level and exercise routine in diabetic patients, and heart monitoring in patients with cardiac arrhythmia. With the command center development, the Hospital can provide telemedicine service, which is an additional service to be used with Praram 9 Patient Mobile Application and medical wearable device. These application and device are connected and transfer the information directly to the Hospital's database system. The responsible medical team will closely monitor such information and provide immediate care, prevention or preparation for necessary treatment 24-hour if needed. The project is under development.

Virtual Hospital system development: Developed to support the new normal practice and rising trend of telemedicine, this system allows patients to virtually visit the hospital and seek advice from physicians or receive medicine as if they actually visited the Hospital. The technology is specially developed and designed to directly address patients' need and is directly connected with the Hospital system. When working closely with the Command Center, the technology enables the Hospital to closely monitor the patients' specific symptoms or conditions, resulting in improved and completed medical treatment.

The Hospital's risk management system begins with a clear policy, clear supervision through the Risk Management Committee, the Audit Committee and the Board of Directors respectively. The Hospital also has a policy to use the risk management process as an opportunity identification tool. According to the in-depth operational analysis of the Hospital, major risks and management recommendations are as follows:

Based on the strategy to become a digital hospital, the Hospital has clearly identified risk index. After the outbreak of the corona virus (COVID-19), the Hospital has realized that to reduce contact and maintain treatment continuity, digital platform and innovations, both service and medical innovations, are critical to achieve these goals. The Hospital, however, is concerned that it cannot immediately transform into a digital hospital. To facilitate the transform, the Hospital has seriously adjusted and integrated its system to become a digital hospital according to the Healthcare Information and Management Systems (HIMSS).

1.2 Brand building

The major objective for brand building is to present the Hospital’s strengths and differentiation as the excellent specialized medicine center. With this key positioning, the Hospital aims to increase the number of patients, both individual and corporate levels. Therefore, the Hospital has increased online and offline activities to strengthen brand recognition. The “Corporate Market Survey” has been implemented to systematically collect opinions and brand perception to support its brand building plan.

2. Operational Risks

2.1 Service

Natural to the entire service industry, not only those in hospital sector, businesses are mainly concerned with “Service Satisfaction Maintenance”. Similarly, the Hospital has ensured service satisfaction maintenance and improvement. Against the Customer Satisfaction Index of 95%, the Hospital has achieved over 90% ever since the index has been implemented. The major continuous improvements are the “Queue” system for patient queueing management, “Doctor Scheduling”, Service Culture Training, effective communication, service guideline training, and patient care technique and knowledge training at least once a year.

2.2 Personnel Risks

Following the COVID-19 outbreak, the Hospital has particularly emphasized on cost reduction, especially overtime (OT) payment. Therefore, “Employee Efficiency” has been identified and included in the Personnel Risks. Performance evaluation process has been improved to lift employee efficiency measurement standard in order to encourage employees to constantly improve themselves and develop multi-skill sets. At the same time, this will lead to less OT payment.

3. Compliance Risks

3.1 Legal Function

In terms of compliance with related laws and hospital regulations, risk of non-compliance with related laws and regulations has been identified. To ensure full compliance, the Legal Department has thoroughly studied and regularly communicated with all concerned parties of the major rules and regulations. Speed and timely communication of such rules and regulations is the top priority. From this year onwards, the Hospital has included related laws in the Hospital’s professional regulations.

3.2 Services

Praram 9 Hospital has never found any legal case related to service complaint. By emphasizing on service user protection, the Hospital has some risks related to “legal charge/compensation claimed for medical treatment”, which directly affect the corporate reputation and image. To prevent such risks, the Hospital has analyzed and mitigated risks by taking the following measures.

- 1) Developing reporting mechanism for case report, negotiation and compensation when a complaint is received through the Flow Responsive system
- 2) Preparing incident report to monitor errors in medical treatment and compliance to treatment procedure
- 3) Conducting Social Risk Round six times a week to identify and prevent risks
- 4) Improving compensation claim process of professional liability insurance company and hospital insurance to make it shorter and clearer, including discussion with insurance companies in some cases

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Praram 9 Hospital Public Company Limited

Opinion

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Praram 9 Hospital Public Company Limited (the Company), which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2020, and the related statements of comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Praram 9 Hospital Public Company Limited as at 31 December 2020, its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report. I am independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants as issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions as relevant to my audit of the financial statements, and I have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

I draw attention to Note 1.2 and Note 3 to the financial statements. In the fourth quarter of 2020, the Company has assessed the financial impacts of the uncertainties of the COVID-19 Pandemic on the valuation of assets, provisions and contingent liabilities. As a result, in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020, the Company has decided to discontinue application of all relief measures which the Company elected to apply under the Accounting Guidance on Temporary Relief Measures for Accounting Alternatives in Response to the Impact of the COVID-19 Pandemic issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions. This has no significant impact on the Company's financial statements. My opinion is not modified in the respect of this matter.

Key Audit Matter

Key audit matter is this matter that, in my professional judgement, was of most significance in my audit of the financial statements of the current period. This matter was addressed in the context of my audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming my opinion thereon, and I do not provide a separate opinion on this matter.

I have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report, including in relation to this matter. Accordingly, my audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to my assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of my audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for my audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements as a whole.

Key audit matter and how audit procedures respond to the matter are described below.

Revenue recognition

Revenues from hospital operations are significant to the financial statements because the amount is high (approximately 99% of total revenues). In addition, it consists of many compositions, such as revenues from sales of medicines, revenues from medical services, revenues from patient rooms, etc., including discounts for counterparties, e.g. insurance companies and other several counterparties, whereas the agreements contain vary conditions for each party. There are therefore risks with respect to the amount and timing of revenue recognition.

I have examined the revenue recognition of the Company by

- Assessing and testing the Company's IT system and its internal controls with respect to the revenue cycle by making enquiry of responsible executives, gaining an understanding of the controls and selecting representative samples to test the operation of the designed controls, and with special consideration given to expanding the scope of the testing of the internal controls which respond to the above risks.
- Performing analytical procedures on disaggregated data to detect possible irregularities in revenues transactions throughout the period, including accounting entries made through journal vouchers.
- On a sampling basis, examining supporting documents for revenue transactions occurring during the period.
- Reviewing credit notes that the Company issued after the period-end.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprise the information included in annual report of the Company, but does not include the financial statements and my auditor's report thereon. The annual report of the Company is expected to be made available to me after the date of this auditor's report.

My opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and I do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with my audit of the financial statements, my responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or my knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When I read the report of the Company, if I conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, I am required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance for correction of the misstatement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

I also provide those charged with governance with a statement that I have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on my independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, I determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matter. I describe these matters in my auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, I determine that a matter should not be communicated in my report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

I am responsible for the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report.

Notes to financial statements

Praram 9 Hospital Public Company Limited For the year ended 31 December 2020

1. General information

1.1 General information of the Company

Praram 9 Hospital Public Company Limited (“the Company”) is a public company incorporated and domiciled in Thailand. The Company is principally engaged in the hospital operations. The registered office of the Company is at 99, Praram 9 Road, Bangkok, Huaykwang, Bangkok.

1.2 Coronavirus disease 2019 pandemic

The Coronavirus disease 2019 pandemic is currently impacting most businesses and industries. This situation may bring uncertainties and have an impact on the environment in which the group operates. The Company’s management has continuously monitored ongoing developments and assessed the financial impact in respect of the valuation of assets, provisions and contingent liabilities, and has used estimates and judgement in respect of various issues as the situation has evolved.

2. Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards enunciated under the Accounting Professions Act B.E. 2547 and their presentation has been made in compliance with the stipulations of the Notification of the Department of Business Development, issued under the Accounting Act B.E. 2543.

The financial statements in Thai language are the official statutory financial statements of the Company. The financial statements in English language have been translated from the Thai language financial statements.

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis except where otherwise disclosed in the accounting policies.

3. New financial reporting standards

a) Financial reporting standards that became effective in the current year

During the year, the Company has adopted the revised (revised 2019) and new financial reporting standards and interpretations which are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2020. These financial reporting standards were aimed at alignment with the corresponding International Financial Reporting Standards with most of the changes directed towards clarifying accounting treatment and providing accounting guidance for users of the standards. The adoption of these financial reporting standards does not have any significant impact on the Company's financial statements. However, the new standard involves changes to key principles, which are summarised below:

Financial reporting standards related to financial instruments

A set of TFRSs related to financial instruments consists of five accounting standards and interpretations, as follows:

Financial reporting standards:

TFRS 7	Financial Instruments: Disclosures
TFRS 9	Financial Instruments

Accounting standard:

TAS 32	Financial Instruments: Presentation

Financial Reporting Standard Interpretations:

TFRIC 16	Hedges of a Net Investment in a Foreign Operation
TFRIC 19	Extinguishing Financial Liabilities with Equity Instruments

These TFRSs related to financial instruments make stipulations relating to the classification of financial instruments and their measurement at fair value or amortised cost (taking into account the type of instrument, the characteristics of the contractual cash flows and the Company's business model), calculation of impairment using the expected credit loss method, and hedge accounting. They also include stipulations regarding the presentation and disclosure of financial instruments.

The adoption of these standards has the impact on the Company's financial statements to result in the following adjustments.

- Classification and measurement of investments in available-for-sale equity security that the Company has elected to irrevocably classify the investment as financial asset at fair value through profit or loss.
- Classification and measurement of investments in available-for-sale debt securities that the Company has decided to classify these investments as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

- Recognition of expected credit losses that the Company recognises an allowance for expected credit losses on its debt instruments measured at amortised cost, and it is no longer necessary for a credit-impaired event to have occurred. The Company applies the simplified approach to determine expected credit losses of trade receivables.

The Company recognised the cumulative effect of the adoption of these financial reporting standards as an adjustment to retained earnings and other components of shareholders' equity as at 1 January 2020, and the comparative information was not restated.

The cumulative effect of the change is described in Note 4 to the financial statements.

TFRS 16 Leases

TFRS 16 supersedes TAS 17, Leases, together with related Interpretations. The standard sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases, and requires a lessee to recognise assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is low value.

Accounting by lessors under TFRS 16 is substantially unchanged from TAS 17. Lessors will continue to classify leases as either operating or finance leases.

The Company recognised the cumulative effect of the adoption of this financial reporting standard as an adjustment to retained earnings as at 1 January 2020, and the comparative information was not restated.

The cumulative effect of the change is described in Note 4 to the financial statements.

Accounting Guidance on Temporary Relief Measures for Accounting Alternatives in Response to the Impact of the COVID-19 Pandemic

The Federation of Accounting Professions announced Accounting Guidance on Temporary Relief Measures for Accounting Alternatives in Response to the Impact of the COVID-19 Pandemic. Its objectives are to alleviate some of the impacts of applying certain financial reporting standards, and to provide clarification about accounting treatments during the period of uncertainty relating to this situation.

On 22 April 2020, the Accounting Treatment Guidance was announced in the Royal Gazette and it is effective for the financial statements prepared for reporting periods ending between 1 January 2020 and 31 December 2020.

During the period from the first quarter to the third quarter of 2020, the Company elected to apply the temporary relief measures on accounting alternatives relating to measurement of expected credit losses using a simplified approach, fair value measurement of financial assets in the form of debt instruments, lease modification, and impairment of assets.

In the fourth quarter of 2020, the Company has assessed the financial impacts of the uncertainties of the COVID-19 Pandemic on the valuation of assets. As a result, in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020, the Company has decided to discontinue application of all temporary relief measures on accounting alternatives with no significant impact on the Company's financial statements.

b) Financial reporting standards that will become effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2021

The Federation of Accounting Professions issued a number of revised financial reporting standards and interpretations, which are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2021. These financial reporting standards were aimed at alignment with the corresponding International Financial Reporting Standards with most of the changes directed towards clarifying accounting treatment and providing accounting guidance for users of the standards.

The management of the Company is currently evaluating the impact of these standards to the financial statements in the year when they are adopted.

4. Cumulative effects of changes in accounting policies due to the adoption of new financial reporting standards

As described in Note 3 to the financial statements, during the current year, the Company has adopted the set of financial reporting standards related to financial instruments and TFRS 16. The cumulative effect of initially applying these standards was recognised as an adjustment to retained earnings and other components of shareholders' equity as at 1 January 2020. Therefore, the comparative information was not restated.

The impacts of changes in accounting policies on the statements of financial position at the beginning of 2020 due to the adoption of these standards are presented as follows:

5. Significant accounting policies

5.1 Revenue and expense recognition

Revenues from hospital operations

Revenues from hospital operations, mainly consisting of medical fees, hospital room sales, and medicine sales, are recognised as revenue and the point in time when services have been rendered or medicines have been delivered. Revenues are measured at the amount of the consideration received or receivable of services rendered and medicine delivered after deducting discounts.

Rental income

Rental income is recognised over the rental period and at the rate determined in the agreement.

Interest income

Interest income is calculated using the effective interest method and recognised on an accrual basis. The effective interest rate is applied to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, unless the financial assets subsequently become credit-impaired when it is applied to the net carrying amount of the financial asset (net of the expected credit loss allowance).

Finance cost

Interest expense from financial liabilities at amortised cost is calculated using the effective interest method and recognised on an accrual basis.

5.2 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash in hand and at banks, and all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less and not subject to withdrawal restrictions.

5.3 Medicines and supplies

Medicines and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined by First-in First-out method.

5.4 Property, plant and equipment/Depreciation

Land is stated at cost. Buildings and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and allowance for loss on impairment of assets (if any).

Depreciation of plant and equipment is calculated by reference to their costs on the straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives:

Land improvement	-	10 - 30 years
Buildings, building improvement and condominium units	-	30 - 50 years
Building service systems	-	10 - 20 years
Tools and medical instruments	-	7 - 10 years
Office furniture, fixtures and equipment	-	3 - 10 years
Motor vehicles	-	10 years

Depreciation is included in determining income.

No depreciation is provided on land, assets under installation and construction in progress.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on disposal of an asset is included in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

5.5 Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less any accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses of assets (if any).

Amortisation expense is calculated by reference to their costs on a straight-line basis over the economic useful lives of 5 - 10 years.

The amortisation expense is charged to profit or loss.

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised on a systematic basis over the economic useful life and tested for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible assets may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method of such intangible assets is reviewed at least at each financial year end.

5.6 Leases

At inception of contract, the Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

The Company as a lessee

Accounting policies adopted since 1 January 2020

The Company applied a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. At the commencement date of the lease (i.e. the date the underlying asset is available for use), the Company recognises right-of-use assets representing the right to use underlying assets and lease liabilities based on lease payments.

Right-of-use assets

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation or accumulated amortisation, any accumulated impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities initially recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date of the lease less any lease incentives received.

Depreciation and amortisation of right-of-use assets are calculated by reference to their costs, on the straight-line basis over the shorter of their estimated useful lives and the lease term.

Land	-	3 years
Motor vehicles	-	3 years
Cost of right-of-use the bridges	-	10 - 30 years

If ownership of the leased asset is transferred to the Company at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation and amortisation are calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

Lease liabilities

Lease liabilities are measured at the present value of the lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be payable under residual value guarantees. Moreover, the lease payments include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Company and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the Company exercising an option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

The Company discounted the present value of the lease payments by the interest rate implicit in the lease or the Company's incremental borrowing rate. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

A lease that has a lease term less than or equal to 12 months from commencement date or a lease of low-value assets is recognised as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Accounting policies adopted before 1 January 2020

Leases of property and equipment which transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at the lower of the fair value of the leased assets and the present value of the minimum lease payments. The outstanding rental obligations, net of finance charges, are included in long-term payables, while the interest element is charged to profit or loss over the lease period. The assets acquired under finance leases is depreciated over the shorter of the useful life of the asset and the lease period.

Leases of property and equipment which do not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Company as a lessor

A lease is classified as an operating lease if it does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to a lessee. Lease receivables from operating leases is recognised as income in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Initial direct costs incurred in obtaining an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the underlying assets and recognised as an expense over the lease term on the same basis as the lease income.

5.7 Related party transactions

Related parties comprise individuals or enterprises that control, or are controlled by, the Company, whether directly or indirectly, or which are under common control with the Company.

They also include associated companies and individuals or enterprises which directly or indirectly own a voting interest in the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company, key management personnel, directors, and officers with authority in the planning and direction of the Company operations.

5.8 Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company performs impairment reviews in respect of the property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and other intangible assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. An impairment loss is recognised when the recoverable amount of an asset, which is the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use, is less than the carrying amount.

An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

5.9 Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Salaries, wages, bonuses and contributions to the social security fund are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Post-employment benefits and other long-term employee benefits

Defined contribution plans

The Company and its employees have jointly established a provident fund. The fund is monthly contributed by employees and by the Company. The fund's assets are held in a separate trust fund and the Company contributions are recognised as expenses when incurred.

Defined benefit plans and other long-term employee benefits

The Company has obligations in respect of the severance payments it must make to employees upon retirement under labor law and medical care under other employee benefit plans. The Company treats these severance payment and medical care obligations as a defined benefit plan. In addition, the Company provides other long-term employee benefit plan, namely long service awards.

The obligation under the defined benefit plan and other long-term employee benefit plans is determined by a professionally qualified independent actuary based on actuarial techniques, using the projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from post-employment benefits are recognised immediately in other comprehensive income.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from other long-term benefits are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Past service costs are recognised in profit or loss on the earlier of the date of the plan amendment or curtailment and the date that the Company recognises restructuring-related costs.

5.10 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

5.11 Income Tax

Income tax expense represents the sum of corporate income tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current tax

Current income tax is provided in the accounts at the amount expected to be paid to the taxation authorities, based on taxable profits determined in accordance with tax legislation.

Deferred tax

Deferred income tax is provided on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts at the end of each reporting period, using the tax rates enacted at the end of the reporting period.

The Company recognises deferred tax liabilities for all taxable temporary differences while its recognise deferred tax assets for all deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which such deductible temporary differences and tax losses carried forward can be utilised.

At each reporting date, the Company reviews and reduces the carrying amount of deferred tax assets to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

The Company records deferred tax directly to shareholders' equity if the tax relates to items that are recorded directly to shareholders' equity.

5.12 Financial instruments

Accounting policies adopted since 1 January 2020

The Company initially measures financial assets at its fair value plus, in the case of financial assets that are not measured at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. However, trade receivables, that do not contain a significant financing component, are measured at the transaction price as disclosed in the accounting policy relating to revenue recognition.

Classification and measurement of financial assets

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as to be subsequently measured at amortised cost, or fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). The classification of financial assets at initial recognition is driven by the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flows characteristics of the financial assets.

Financial assets at amortised cost

The Company measures financial assets at amortised cost if the financial asset is held in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest rate (EIR) method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised, modified or impaired.

Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets measured at FVTPL are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with net changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

These financial assets include derivatives, security investments held for trading, equity investments which the Company has not irrevocably elected to classify at FVOCI and financial assets with cash flows that are not solely payments of principal and interest.

Dividends on listed equity investments are recognised as other income in profit or loss.

Classification and measurement of financial liabilities

Except for derivative liabilities, at initial recognition the Company's financial liabilities are recognised at fair value net of transaction costs and classified as liabilities to be subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the EIR amortisation process. In determining amortised cost, the Company takes into account any fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance costs in profit or loss.

Derecognition of financial instruments

A financial asset is primarily derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or have been transferred and either the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in profit or loss.

Impairment of financial assets

For trade receivables, the Company applies a simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Therefore, the Company does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. It is based on its historical credit loss experience and adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Accounting policies adopted before 1 January 2020

Trade accounts receivable

Trade accounts receivable are stated at the net realisable value. Allowance for doubtful accounts is provided for the estimated losses that may be incurred in collection of receivables. The allowance is generally based on collection experience and analysis of debt aging.

Investments

- a) Investments in available-for-sale securities are stated at fair value. Changes in the fair value of these securities are recorded in other comprehensive income and will be recorded in profit or loss when the securities are sold.
- b) Investments in non-marketable equity securities, which the Company classifies as other investments, are stated at cost net of allowance for impairment loss (if any).

The fair value of marketable securities is based on the latest bid price of the last working day of the year. The fair value of unit trusts is determined from their net asset value.

The weighted average method is used for computation of the cost of investments.

On disposal of an investment, the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the investment is recognised in profit or loss.

5.13 Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between buyer and seller (market participants) at the measurement date. The Company applies a quoted market price in an active market to measure their assets and liabilities that are required to be measured at fair value by relevant financial reporting standards. Except in case of no active market of an identical asset or liability or when a quoted market price is not available, the Company measures fair value using valuation technique that are appropriate in the circumstances and maximises the use of relevant observable inputs related to assets and liabilities that are required to be measured at fair value.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy into three levels based on categorise of input to be used in fair value measurement as follows:

Level 1 - Use of quoted market prices in an active market for such assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Use of other observable inputs for such assets or liabilities, whether directly or indirectly

Level 3 - Use of unobservable inputs such as estimates of future cash flows

At the end of each reporting period, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels within the fair value hierarchy for assets and liabilities held at the end of the reporting period that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis.

6. Significant accounting judgements and estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with financial reporting standards at times requires management to make subjective judgements and estimates regarding matters that are inherently uncertain. These judgements and estimates affect reported amounts and disclosures; and actual results could differ from these estimates. Significant judgements and estimates are as follows:

Leases

Determining the lease term with extension and termination options - The Company as a lessee

In determining the lease term, the management is required to exercise judgement in assessing whether the Company is reasonably certain to exercise the option to extend or terminate the lease considering all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Company to exercise either the extension or termination option.

Estimating the incremental borrowing rate - The Company as a lessee

The Company cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in the lease, therefore, the management is required to exercise judgement in estimating its incremental borrowing rate to discount lease liabilities. The incremental borrowing rate is the rate of interest that the Company would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment.

Lease classification - The Company as lessor

In determining whether a lease is to be classified as an operating lease or finance lease, the management is required to exercise judgement as to whether significant risk and rewards of ownership of the leased asset has been transferred, taking into consideration terms and conditions of the arrangement.

Allowance for expected credit losses of trade receivables

In determining an allowance for expected credit losses of trade receivables, the management needs to make judgement and estimates based upon, among other things, past collection history, aging profile of outstanding debts and the forecast economic condition for groupings of various customer segments with similar credit risks. The Company's historical credit loss experience and forecast economic conditions may also not be representative of whether a customer will actually default in the future.

Property, plant and equipment/Depreciation

In determining depreciation of plant and equipment, the management is required to make estimates of the useful lives and residual values of the plant and equipment and to review estimate useful lives and residual values when there are any changes.

In addition, the management is required to review property, plant and equipment for impairment on a periodical basis and record impairment losses when it is determined that their recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount. This requires judgements regarding forecast of future revenues and expenses relating to the assets subject to the review.

Intangible assets

The initial recognition and measurement of intangible assets and subsequent impairment testing require the management to consider the significant changes related to the use or expected use of such assets with an adverse effect on the entity during the year or in the near future and record impairment losses when it is determined that their recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount.

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences and losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of estimate future taxable profits.

Post-employment benefits under defined benefit plans and other long-term employee benefits

The obligation under the defined benefit plan and other long-term employee benefit plans is determined based on actuarial techniques. Such determination is made based on various assumptions, including discount rate, future salary increase rate, mortality rate, staff turnover rate, gold price change rate and medical fees increase rate.

28. Financial instruments

28.1 Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Company's financial instruments principally comprise cash and cash equivalents, trade accounts receivable and investments. The financial risks associated with these financial instruments and how they are managed is described below.

Credit risk

The Company is exposed to credit risk primarily with respect to trade accounts receivables, deposits with banks and financial institutions, and other financial instruments. The maximum exposure to credit risk is limited to the carrying amounts as stated in the statement of financial position.

Trade accounts receivable

The Company manages the risk by adopting appropriate credit control policies and procedures and therefore does not expect to incur material financial losses. Outstanding trade accounts receivable are regularly monitored. In addition, the Company does not have high concentrations of credit risk since it has a large and diverse customer base.

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date to measure expected credit losses. The Company classifies trade accounts receivable segments by similar credit risks and calculates expected credit losses by considering the outstanding debts aging of each segment, the probability-weighted outcome, the time value of money and reasonable and supportable information that is available at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions. Generally, trade accounts receivable is written-off individually when payment has been defaulted and it is probable that the debt will not be collectible, and the Company has pursued legal action against the debtor.

Financial instruments and cash deposits

The Company manages the credit risk from balances with banks and financial institutions by making investments only with approved counterparties and within credit limits assigned to each counterparty. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed and approved by the Company's Board of Directors. The limits are set to minimise the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through a counterparty's potential failure to make payments.

The credit risk on debt instruments is limited because the counterparties are banks with high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

Market riskForeign currency risk

The Company does not consider itself exposed to foreign currency risk because it has no significant foreign currency transactions.

Interest rate risk

The Company expects the interest rate risk to be minimal because most of the financial assets and liabilities of the Company bear floating interest rates or fixed interest rates which are close to the market rate.

Liquidity risk

As of 31 December 2020, approximately 73% of the Company's debt will mature in less than one year at 31 December 2020 (2019: 77%). The Company has assessed its ability to repay existing liabilities and concluded the risk is low. Furthermore, the Company has access to a sufficient variety of sources of funding.

28.2 Fair values of financial instruments

Since the majority of the Company's financial instruments are short-term in nature or carrying interest at rates close to the market interest rates, their fair value is not expected to be materially different from the amounts presented in the statement of financial position.

29. Capital management

The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to ensure that it has appropriate capital structure in order to support its business and maximise shareholder value. As at 31 December 2020, the Company's debt-to-equity ratio was 0.17:1 (2019: 0.17:1).
